“Is Divine Energy: THE SECRET OF THE LIMITLESS IMMANENT VALUE” by Vipin Gupta is the fourth book of this 12-book series. Having read the previous titles, I found this volume resonated with me the most. It was not an easy read, and it felt a little bit more technical than the third book; however, there was a main premise that jumped at me and connected different points that had lingered separately in my mind for a long time. In this book, the author focuses on Divine Energy in our Present Reality. The reader will explore Divine Reality from the Atomic, cellular, and spiritual levels dissecting it to understand its DNA and different transformations within the animate and inanimate expressions of divine energy.

In this context what resonated with me is the question of ‘Are humans Divine?’ In my own spiritual journey, I have explored this question along with concepts of genetic memory, Divine design, time, space, and nature. Vipin Gupta connects all the dots for me in his analysis. In short, the answer to my questions about how all this relates to each other is discovered in these pages as follows. We are part of a Divine plan embedded within our biological, spiritual, chemical, and physical composition. Divine energy exists within us and reacts to our genetic memory, spiritual memory, surrounding environment, and growth through space and time, and manifests our Present Reality. The divinity of our energy is the power we have to change what we have manifested.

I have been on a spiritual journey for a few years now, looking into the philosophies and beliefs of different cultures to expand my knowledge on why we are here and how we relate to what surrounds us. I feel Vipin Gupta’s books have taken my journey to the next level. For that I am grateful I came across his series.

“Is Divine Energy” by Vipin Gupta is thought provoking and enlightening. What is surprising to me in all of the books I have read in this series, is that as I read the complex and technical information the messages and consider questions that have lingered for a lifetime, answers pop up in my mind unexpectedly. A Five-Star must-read.
